Castiglione Messer Marino is a typical mountain village in the Abruzzo Apennines, located at 1,000 meters above sea level on the border with Molise. The climate is typically mountainous, characterized by harsh, snowy winters and sunny, dry summers. The town boasts prestigious buildings and ancient churches, such as the Church of San Michele Arcangelo, dating back to the 15th century. It is located in the historic center of the town near the ancient castle and the Porta di Sant'Angelo gate, from which it takes its name.
Castiglione is easily reached from Pescara, Rome, and Naples.

Interesting fact: Castiglione is the hometown of the father of the famous Formula 1 driver Juan Manuel Fangio, five-time world champion.
